Application for Right of Burial

The Right of Burial owner is the legal personal representative of the deceased. The Right of Burial owner remains the legal personal representative until the Right of Burial is transferred to another recipient and registered in the cemetery register. For more details please refer to the cemeteries information sheet.

As the new Right of Burial owner, I nominate as my authorised person to perform any required monumental work.

This plot is being purchased for the burial of the following individual(s); this may include the Right of Burial owner. If there are any changes to the information below, written consent is required from the Right of Burial owner.

NOTE: A plot can normally accommodate two coffins and four ashes. On occasion, ground conditions may not allow for burial in an allocated plot due to rock or stability problems not evident prior to digging the grave. In this circumstance, an alternate plot will be allocated.
